

D'où venons nous? Que sommes nous? Où allons nous? Where do we come from? What we are? Where are we going?

I think those questions about humanity made by Gauguin, are still up to date in our modern world.

After terrorist attack in January 2015 in Paris i ask myself same question as famous French painter does 100 years ago. "Where is it going to? How does humanity proceed?"

Do we need to be divide by using hashtag #JeSuisCharlie or #JeNeSuisPasCharlie at all?

Aren't we just one human kind? Is there something we forgot about? Yes we live in different places, cultures and we have specific religions but what we are is the same.
